

Centre Recognition Policy

1 General

- 1.1 BIIAB Qualifications Limited¹ is required to ensure that learners entered for its assessments and examinations are given such training, tuition, support and access to resources which will offer them the best chance of success.
- 1.2 An organisation must go through a centre recognition process before it is allowed to deliver and assess regulated ²units / components and qualifications. Centres must not start delivery without written confirmation of approval.
- 1.3 Centre recognition does not endorse the activities or credibility of the organisation, other than in its standing to apply for approval to run courses / programmes that lead to the award of units and qualifications and to accept and apply our policies and procedures in support of that activity.
- 1.4 We consider applications from all centres and do not discriminate³ against type or size of organisation. We judge a centre's application on its ability to quality assure the delivery and assessment of our units and qualifications.
 - 1.4.1 We consider applications from international centres which are organisations in their own right or international sites of an approved organisation in the UK.⁴
- 1.5 Centre recognition embraces all annexes, sites and franchised locations of the named organisation. Such extensions of the recognised centre are not considered to have an independent approval and the recognised centre will be deemed wholly responsible for activities undertaken at these sites.

² Regulated qualifications are accredited and monitored by Ofqual in England, Qualification Wales, CCEA in NI and SQO in Scotland.

³ See Equality and Diversity Policy.

⁴ Centres seeking recognition and operating in international markets must either have established links with an approved UK Centre or must be able to demonstrate robust quality assurance arrangements which can readily be monitored by our external quality assurers and examiners.

1.5.1 An organisation may determine such a site as eligible to receive communications directly from us. Eligibility is defined by the presence of an Examinations Officer or persons with the appropriate authority to manage one or more of the following:

- process enrolments / registrations;
- assessments and claims for certification.

1.6 Centres which plan to sub-contract any part of the enrolment, delivery or assessment of our qualifications to another independent organisation must declare that partnership and have the appropriate agreements in place to ensure those arrangements do not put the recognition of the approved centre at risk. We will hold the recognised Centre wholly responsible for such arrangements.

1.6.1 All Partner Organisations must be registered as a site and full details of their location and staff given.

1.7 In order to maintain a high level of support to a centre throughout the period of recognition, all centres will be charged an annual fee, invoiced at the beginning of September each year. Centres approved in-year will not be invoiced until the following September.

1.8 We reserve the right to decline an application for Centre Recognition without providing a rationale for the decision.

- 2.3.2 The criteria upon which these judgements are made include but are not restricted to a Centre's experience and expertise and its association and performance with other nationally recognised awarding organisations.
- 2.3.1 Centres with experience of delivering and assessing qualifications may be mutually recognised and in these cases, may move directly to the process for Qualification Approval.⁵
